about the speaker

Julie Martin is a native of suburban St. Louis, Missouri. She currently lives in Bakersfield, California, with her husband, Randy, a PCA pastor. Although raised in a United Presbyterian Church, Julie did not come to the Lord until she was 33 years old. Her undergraduate degree is in biblical counseling from The Master's College in California, and she has completed some graduate work at Covenant Seminary. As someone whose childhood was fractured by abuse and divorce, Julie's counseling and discipling ministry has often focused on women with struggles related to relationships and self-image.
